

Zou Chenyang

Calculating emissions from the procurement process begins with determining the number of procurement staff, mode of transportation and frequency of procurement. The total weekly emissions are then calculated based on the emission factors of the corresponding transportation modes.