

Zou Chenyang

Enter the total distance of the employee's commute and the corresponding commute mode in the program, and calculate the total amount of emissions by combining the emission factors corresponding to that commute mode.