Zou Chenyang

For allocating emissions from shared spaces or multi-tenant buildings, firstly, I separate the buildings by three types, which are Office Building, Residential Complex, and Retail Center because different types of buildings have different kinds of tenants. Then I use the data of percentage of area each tenant uses with specific emission factor accordingly. After that I calculate total weighted factor for all tenants to properly allocate emissions.