Zou Chenyang

This problem is in the certain kind of building to track the emission or consumption of different kinds of tenants. I consider the area, occupants, and emission factor of the tenants. Users can easily change the tenants by adding or delating the 'Tenant' and add additional record of buildings' water or electricity consumptions. After adding, users can choose the month they want and track the emissions of different tenants.